

EuroWorkS-OnAir-2022

Dear colleagues,

Even if the political situation changed dramatically, we hope that all of you join our common meeting to make a clear statement about peaceful cooperation of scientists from all over the world.

We are excited to inform you that this year the series of online Workshops on Seabuckthorn will be continued. You are kindly invited to participate in this great event and discuss the most urgent tasks in the field of seabuckthorn. As usual worldwide known specialists and experts will provide comprehensive presentations on different topics related to seabuckthorn.

We invite you to attend the meeting as either presenter as well as listener. Your ideas directed to improvement of the event as well as thought on new topics included in our meetings are highly appreciated.
